

The Avalanche.

O. PALMER, Editor and Proprietor.
GRAYLING, MICHIGAN.

EPITOME OF THE WEEK.

Interesting News Compilation.

XLVIII. CONGRESS.

Second Session.

TUESDAY, Dec. 9.—The Senate, by a strict party vote, decided to take up the bill for the admission of Idaho, and Mr. Davidson gave statistics to establish the claims of the people of the southern half of that Territory. A bill for the sale of the Cherokee Reservation in Arkansas was passed. Mr. Sherman introduced a bill for the reorganization of the National Bank of the United States. Mr. Riddleberger objected to the confirmation of Hugh McCulloch as Secretary of the Treasury. In the House Mr. Chalmers introduced a bill to restore the republican form of government to the State of Mississippi. Further consideration of the Interstate Commerce bill occupied the remainder of the session.

WEDNESDAY, Dec. 10.—Mr. Vest presented several resolutions in the Senate from Dakota in opposition to its admission as a State, and claimed that the movement was engineered by ambitious Territorial politicians. In the House the West Point Appropriation bill was passed and the Interstate Commerce bill was further considered.

THURSDAY, Dec. 11.—Mr. Van Wyck offered a resolution in the Senate that the commercial treaty negotiated with Spain had been given to the public, a rule to be adopted for its consideration in open session. A joint resolution was adopted appointing February 21 for the completion of the Washington monument. There was prolonged debate on the Oregon Central Land-Grants bill, and the measure for the admission of Dakota. Adjourned to the 12th. In the House the Invalid Pension Appropriation bill was reported, after which consideration of the Interstate Commerce bill was resumed.

FRIDAY, Dec. 12.—The Senate was not in session. In the House a concurrent resolution was adopted for a gathering of Senators and Representatives at the White House on the 16th, to witness the opening of the new Order of the Eastern Star, President, by means of electricity. After a long debate a resolution was adopted to expunge from the official proceedings of last July a speech by J. D. Taylor, which reflected on the President. At 12 o'clock the House adjourned.

FROM WASHINGTON.

The exchanges at twenty-six leading clearing-houses in the United States during the week ended on the 6th aggregated $69,772,321, against $68,833,084 the previous week. The clearing banks reported a decrease of $939 per cent.

A decision has been rendered by the United States Supreme Court that the act of Congress is valid and constitutional by which Collectors of Ports are required to assess fifty cents each money upon every passenger not a citizen arriving in this country from abroad.

In accordance with the call which set forth the dangers to this country from cholera and the importance of adopting necessary precautions, the National Association on the 10th.

The report of the Agricultural Department on the 10th showed that farm products were tending lower in value. The average price of corn was 36 cents, being a decrease of 1 cent from the previous week. Wheat averaged 45 cents, against 46 cents a year ago; while the range for oats was 25 cents, the lowest ever reported by the department.

There were 333 business failures in the United States and Canada during the seven days ended on the 12th, against 330 the previous week. The distribution was as follows: Middle States, 23; New England States, 43; Western, 110; Southern, 75; Pacific States and Territories, 77; Canada, 2.

THE EAST.

A fire of the Pierre Prefecture, a blind beggar, occurred recently at Pittsburgh, Pa., and investigators showed that he had $5,000 on deposit in a savings bank. There was no clue to his identity.

From the port of New York the exports during the seven days ended on the 12th, exclusive of mail, were $1,000,000, an increase of $1,358,000 over the previous week. In New York on the 12th William H. Vanderbilt filed a judgment for $153,407 against General Grant—money loaned the General a few days before the failure of the firm of Grant & Ward.

Fire failures are reported of Williamson & Co., private bankers, who were in N. Y. Their liabilities were estimated at about $300,000, with assets less than half that sum.

The other day Allen B. Wilson, of Watertown, Conn., one of the earliest inventors of sewing machines, was taken to the insane asylum at Hartford.

The furniture manufacturing of Clark Bros. & Co., in Park street, with a few other buildings in the same block, were destroyed by fire a few days ago. The loss was about $105,000.

A confession was made by H. Worth Wright, who recently died in Connecticut, that in 1878, while a medical student, he aided in dismembering the body of Estelle Newman, at Egremont, Mass., and took it to the Albany Medical College, where, after being placed on the dissecting table, she showed signs of life, and was resuscitated. The woman was then sent to the insane asylum in Schoharie County, N. Y., but Wright knew nothing of her subsequent movements.

Wescott & Co., bankers at Syracuse, N. Y., have made an assignment, with liabilities of $100,000.

A sum of $50,000 was raised by the various glass-workers' unions throughout the country on the 11th to aid the prescription glass-blowers on a strike at Pittsburgh, Pa.

B. Dana Greene, Commander of the Navy Yard at Portsmouth, N. H., committed suicide on the 11th. His mind was supposed to have been unbalanced by literary work.

Mrs. AUGUSTUS WILLIAMS, of Woonsocket, R. I., was surprised a few days ago by a call from her husband, who mysteriously disappeared eight years ago, and had been married as dead. He invited her to a furnished house in Georgetown, which he purchased with part of a fortune left him recently by his grandmother.

Officers of the Philadelphia mint reported on the 11th that attempts had been made lately to palm off spurious bullion.

At New Bedford, Mass., a fire the other morning caused a loss of $25,000, with heavy insurance. Two firemen were injured by falling ladders.

The firm of J. J. Goodwin & Co., woolen dealers in New York, made an assignment recently to secure liabilities of $300,000.

On the 12th the body of Estelle Newman, who was killed in 1878, was removed to life on a dissecting table, was found unharmed in its grave at Egremont, Mass.

In Butler County, Pa., an oil well located half a mile from all previous developments, was torpedoed on the 12th, and commenced flowing at the rate of five thousand barrels per day.

Reports on the 12th to Brooklyn from leading trade centers indicated that general trade at all points was at a low ebb.

During the season of navigation this year 1,171,171 tons of iron ore were exported from Lake Erie ports, 120,423 tons in excess of last year's record.

WEST AND SOUTH.

Nearly the entire town of Polkton, on the Carolina Central Railroad, was destroyed by fire at two o'clock on the morning of the 9th. The fire was accidental and originated in a drug store. This is the fifth North Carolina town to be burned in the last thirty days, the others being Goldsboro, Wilson, Tolson and Warsaw.

The other day Mrs. Jane Ewing, a widow, who lived twelve miles southwest of Selma, Ala., was going to town on horseback with two little sons, one before and one behind, when a dead tree on the roadside fell on her and her children, instantly killing the three together.

In Western North Carolina great excitement existed on the 10th over the discovery of a new gold mine near Marion, McDowell County. Scores of miners were flocking there from all sections.

At a recent meeting of a wealthy manufacturer at Indianapolis, committed suicide a few days ago by drowning himself in a stream. Deceased had been an invalid for years, and on the day of the suicide eluded the vigilance of her attendants.

A few mornings ago William Pitts, alias "Red," who recently had a falling out with a wagon spoke, was taken from the officers at Daggett, Cal., and hanged to a telegraph pole.

A mob took Charles Stevens, alias "Oswald," a desperado, from jail the other evening at Memphis, and hanged him to the railway bridge.

At a recent meeting of a wealthy manufacturer at Indianapolis, committed suicide a few days ago by drowning himself in a stream. Deceased had been an invalid for years, and on the day of the suicide eluded the vigilance of her attendants.

A few mornings ago William Pitts, alias "Red," who recently had a falling out with a wagon spoke, was taken from the officers at Daggett, Cal., and hanged to a telegraph pole.

A mob took Charles Stevens, alias "Oswald," a desperado, from jail the other evening at Memphis, and hanged him to the railway bridge.

At a recent meeting of a wealthy manufacturer at Indianapolis, committed suicide a few days ago by drowning himself in a stream. Deceased had been an invalid for years, and on the day of the suicide eluded the vigilance of her attendants.

A few mornings ago William Pitts, alias "Red," who recently had a falling out with a wagon spoke, was taken from the officers at Daggett, Cal., and hanged to a telegraph pole.

A mob took Charles Stevens, alias "Oswald," a desperado, from jail the other evening at Memphis, and hanged him to the railway bridge.

At a recent meeting of a wealthy manufacturer at Indianapolis, committed suicide a few days ago by drowning himself in a stream. Deceased had been an invalid for years, and on the day of the suicide eluded the vigilance of her attendants.

A few mornings ago William Pitts, alias "Red," who recently had a falling out with a wagon spoke, was taken from the officers at Daggett, Cal., and hanged to a telegraph pole.

A mob took Charles Stevens, alias "Oswald," a desperado, from jail the other evening at Memphis, and hanged him to the railway bridge.

At a recent meeting of a wealthy manufacturer at Indianapolis, committed suicide a few days ago by drowning himself in a stream. Deceased had been an invalid for years, and on the day of the suicide eluded the vigilance of her attendants.

from his residence in the lower section of Howard County, Md., on the 11th by three men, who were taken to a local jail. The other two were taken to a local jail.

The buildings, which were taken from the World's Fair at New Orleans were nearly all completed on the 12th. Several thousand men were at work night and day in unearthing exhibits, which poured in at the rate of one hundred and thirty daily. The main structure covers thirty-three acres, and has eighteen miles of aisles and a mile of galleries.

GENERAL DUBBIN, in a recent letter published in a Montana newspaper, declares few cattle-ranges no longer profitable, and advocates a Texas cattle-trail. He states that one-sixth of the herds west of the Missouri River are slaughtered by Indians, who get free grass and drive citizens out of the business.

Almost forty negroes lost their lives by the recent epidemic of oyster-banks in the Mississippi River, in Virginia, during a gale. Seventeen bodies have been recovered.

A mob broke out suddenly in Detroit, Toynton & Fox's candy factory in Detroit on the evening of the 12th, causing the girls employed in the second story to rush for the fire-escape, in descending which one young woman fell and was slightly hurt.

Three girls were seen at a window, but a sudden burst of the flames drove them back, and they were burned to death.

In Idaho two cow-boys recently held their left hands together and fought a duel with knives until both fell dead.

On the 11th a man, who was accused of the murder of Zora Burns, fled from that place on the 12th to avoid assassination by the father. His one single fortune was his shirt to a quarter section of farming land.

FOREIGN INTELLIGENCE.

In an attack on the railway at Soledad on the 10th thirty rebels were killed. The failure is announced of Tiffin Brothers, a great wholesale grocery house at Montreal, with liabilities of $200,000.

There was no truth in the reported death of El Michi, the False Prophet. He was his usual self, the Governor of El Obied, who died.

It was announced by the Canadian Premier on the 9th that the scheme of annexation of Jamaica to the Dominion had failed through.

At Toledo, Ohio, Neal McKenney, recently acquitted in Chicago of the Willson murders, was shot in the back by a fellow prisoner on the 10th for a notorious assault upon a woman.

The dress of a young lady caught fire from a cigarette while riding in a street car recently at Guadalajara, Mex., and she was burned to death.

A few days ago a commercial traveler from St. Paul, named Baird, was murdered at New Orleans. He was shot by a man named "Red," who was taken from jail the other evening at Memphis, and hanged him to the railway bridge.

At a recent meeting of a wealthy manufacturer at Indianapolis, committed suicide a few days ago by drowning himself in a stream. Deceased had been an invalid for years, and on the day of the suicide eluded the vigilance of her attendants.

A few mornings ago William Pitts, alias "Red," who recently had a falling out with a wagon spoke, was taken from the officers at Daggett, Cal., and hanged to a telegraph pole.

A mob took Charles Stevens, alias "Oswald," a desperado, from jail the other evening at Memphis, and hanged him to the railway bridge.

At a recent meeting of a wealthy manufacturer at Indianapolis, committed suicide a few days ago by drowning himself in a stream. Deceased had been an invalid for years, and on the day of the suicide eluded the vigilance of her attendants.

A few mornings ago William Pitts, alias "Red," who recently had a falling out with a wagon spoke, was taken from the officers at Daggett, Cal., and hanged to a telegraph pole.

A mob took Charles Stevens, alias "Oswald," a desperado, from jail the other evening at Memphis, and hanged him to the railway bridge.

At a recent meeting of a wealthy manufacturer at Indianapolis, committed suicide a few days ago by drowning himself in a stream. Deceased had been an invalid for years, and on the day of the suicide eluded the vigilance of her attendants.

A few mornings ago William Pitts, alias "Red," who recently had a falling out with a wagon spoke, was taken from the officers at Daggett, Cal., and hanged to a telegraph pole.

ROASTED ALIVE.

An Awful Scene in the Mining Town of Troncon, Pa.

An Entire Family, with the Exception of a Seven-Year-Old Child, Wiped Out—The Father's Horrific Effort to Save the Family.

READING, Pa., Dec. 10.—Troncon, a small mining village about two miles from Mahanoy City, Schuylkill County, was the scene of a fearful holocaust at an early hour yesterday morning. The houses in the village were all built of wood, and about day-break smoke was observed by the inmates of one of them. Ignited by a falling gale the flames spread fast, and in a few minutes three adjoining houses were burning, and the smoke was so thick that the inmates were unable to escape.

A mob broke out suddenly in Detroit, Toynton & Fox's candy factory in Detroit on the evening of the 12th, causing the girls employed in the second story to rush for the fire-escape, in descending which one young woman fell and was slightly hurt.

Three girls were seen at a window, but a sudden burst of the flames drove them back, and they were burned to death.

In Idaho two cow-boys recently held their left hands together and fought a duel with knives until both fell dead.

On the 11th a man, who was accused of the murder of Zora Burns, fled from that place on the 12th to avoid assassination by the father. His one single fortune was his shirt to a quarter section of farming land.

MOB JUSTICE.

A Noted Desperado in Missouri Pays the Extreme Penalty Without the Aid of the Law—Late Case in California.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Dec. 10.—About two weeks ago a man named "Red," who was taken from jail the other evening at Memphis, and hanged him to the railway bridge.

At a recent meeting of a wealthy manufacturer at Indianapolis, committed suicide a few days ago by drowning himself in a stream. Deceased had been an invalid for years, and on the day of the suicide eluded the vigilance of her attendants.

A few mornings ago William Pitts, alias "Red," who recently had a falling out with a wagon spoke, was taken from the officers at Daggett, Cal., and hanged to a telegraph pole.

A mob took Charles Stevens, alias "Oswald," a desperado, from jail the other evening at Memphis, and hanged him to the railway bridge.

At a recent meeting of a wealthy manufacturer at Indianapolis, committed suicide a few days ago by drowning himself in a stream. Deceased had been an invalid for years, and on the day of the suicide eluded the vigilance of her attendants.

A few mornings ago William Pitts, alias "Red," who recently had a falling out with a wagon spoke, was taken from the officers at Daggett, Cal., and hanged to a telegraph pole.

A mob took Charles Stevens, alias "Oswald," a desperado, from jail the other evening at Memphis, and hanged him to the railway bridge.

At a recent meeting of a wealthy manufacturer at Indianapolis, committed suicide a few days ago by drowning himself in a stream. Deceased had been an invalid for years, and on the day of the suicide eluded the vigilance of her attendants.

A few mornings ago William Pitts, alias "Red," who recently had a falling out with a wagon spoke, was taken from the officers at Daggett, Cal., and hanged to a telegraph pole.

A mob took Charles Stevens, alias "Oswald," a desperado, from jail the other evening at Memphis, and hanged him to the railway bridge.

At a recent meeting of a wealthy manufacturer at Indianapolis, committed suicide a few days ago by drowning himself in a stream. Deceased had been an invalid for years, and on the day of the suicide eluded the vigilance of her attendants.

A few mornings ago William Pitts, alias "Red," who recently had a falling out with a wagon spoke, was taken from the officers at Daggett, Cal., and hanged to a telegraph pole.

A mob took Charles Stevens, alias "Oswald," a desperado, from jail the other evening at Memphis, and hanged him to the railway bridge.

At a recent meeting of a wealthy manufacturer at Indianapolis, committed suicide a few days ago by drowning himself in a stream. Deceased had been an invalid for years, and on the day of the suicide eluded the vigilance of her attendants.

BY STORM AND FIRE.

A Number of Oyster Boats Capsized on the Chesapeake Bay, and Many Persons Drowned—Three Young Girls Perish in a Burning Candy Factory at Detroit.

BALTIMORE, Md., Dec. 12.—The first information of a terrible loss of life during the storm of Tuesday night on the Chesapeake Bay, was received here yesterday upon the arrival of the steamer Massachusetts, which officers gave brief particulars of the catastrophe. The victims were, it was learned, in custody in the ship's cargo hold, when the gale burst upon them. The wind blew a hurricane and the waves quickly rose to a height of twenty or thirty feet, tossing the small boats, in which the men were struggling, like cork-balls. The loss is estimated at high of fifty, and seventeen dead bodies have already been recovered.

Up to noon the weather had been peculiarly calm, but there was no indication of a storm. At about two o'clock, when a stiff breeze began blowing, and before the occupants of the small boats could seek ports of safety the boats were tossed about like cork-balls, and the men were unable to do so. The boats were quickly swamped and the occupants swept away in the turbulent waters. Many of the men clung to the upturned boats with a desperation that only the knowledge that their death was near could give.

Up to noon the weather had been peculiarly calm, but there was no indication of a storm. At about two o'clock, when a stiff breeze began blowing, and before the occupants of the small boats could seek ports of safety the boats were tossed about like cork-balls, and the men were unable to do so. The boats were quickly swamped and the occupants swept away in the turbulent waters. Many of the men clung to the upturned boats with a desperation that only the knowledge that their death was near could give.

Up to noon the weather had been peculiarly calm, but there was no indication of a storm. At about two o'clock, when a stiff breeze began blowing, and before the occupants of the small boats could seek ports of safety the boats were tossed about like cork-balls, and the men were unable to do so. The boats were quickly swamped and the occupants swept away in the turbulent waters. Many of the men clung to the upturned boats with a desperation that only the knowledge that their death was near could give.

Up to noon the weather had been peculiarly calm, but there was no indication of a storm. At about two o'clock, when a stiff breeze began blowing, and before the occupants of the small boats could seek ports of safety the boats were tossed about like cork-balls, and the men were unable to do so. The boats were quickly swamped and the occupants swept away in the turbulent waters. Many of the men clung to the upturned boats with a desperation that only the knowledge that their death was near could give.

Up to noon the weather had been peculiarly calm, but there was no indication of a storm. At about two o'clock, when a stiff breeze began blowing, and before the occupants of the small boats could seek ports of safety the boats were tossed about like cork-balls, and the men were unable to do so. The boats were quickly swamped and the occupants swept away in the turbulent waters. Many of the men clung to the upturned boats with a desperation that only the knowledge that their death was near could give.

Up to noon the weather had been peculiarly calm, but there was no indication of a storm. At about two o'clock, when a stiff breeze began blowing, and before the occupants of the small boats could seek ports of safety the boats were tossed about like cork-balls, and the men were unable to do so. The boats were quickly swamped and the occupants swept away in the turbulent waters. Many of the men clung to the upturned boats with a desperation that only the knowledge that their death was near could give.

Up to noon the weather had been peculiarly calm, but there was no indication of a storm. At about two o'clock, when a stiff breeze began blowing, and before the occupants of the small boats could seek ports of safety the boats were tossed about like cork-balls, and the men were unable to do so. The boats were quickly swamped and the occupants swept away in the turbulent waters. Many of the men clung to the upturned boats with a desperation that only the knowledge that their death was near could give.

Up to noon the weather had been peculiarly calm, but there was no indication of a storm. At about two o'clock, when a stiff breeze began blowing, and before the occupants of the small boats could seek ports of safety the boats were tossed about like cork-balls, and the men were unable to do so. The boats were quickly swamped and the occupants swept away in the turbulent waters. Many of the men clung to the upturned boats with a desperation that only the knowledge that their death was near could give.

Up to noon the weather had been peculiarly calm, but there was no indication of a storm. At about two o'clock, when a stiff breeze began blowing, and before the occupants of the small boats could seek ports of safety the boats were tossed about like cork-balls, and the men were unable to do so. The boats were quickly swamped and the occupants swept away in the turbulent waters. Many of the men clung to the upturned boats with a desperation that only the knowledge that their death was near could give.

Up to noon the weather had been peculiarly calm, but there was no indication of a storm. At about two o'clock, when a stiff breeze began blowing, and before the occupants of the small boats could seek ports of safety the boats were tossed about like cork-balls, and the men were unable to do so. The boats were quickly swamped and the occupants swept away in the turbulent waters. Many of the men clung to the upturned boats with a desperation that only the knowledge that their death was near could give.

Up to noon the weather had been peculiarly calm, but there was no indication of a storm. At about two o'clock, when a stiff breeze began blowing, and before the occupants of the small boats could seek ports of safety the boats were tossed about like cork-balls, and the men were unable to do so. The boats were quickly swamped and the occupants swept away in the turbulent waters. Many of the men clung to the upturned boats with a desperation that only the knowledge that their death was near could give.

Up to noon the weather had been peculiarly calm, but there was no indication of a storm. At about two o'clock, when a stiff breeze began blowing, and before the occupants of the small boats could seek ports of safety the boats were tossed about like cork-balls, and the men were unable to do so. The boats were quickly swamped and the occupants swept away in the turbulent waters. Many of the men clung to the upturned boats with a desperation that only the knowledge that their death was near could give.

Up to noon the weather had been peculiarly calm, but there was no indication of a storm. At about two o'clock, when a stiff breeze began blowing, and before the occupants of the small boats could seek ports of safety the boats were tossed about like cork-balls, and the men were unable to do so. The boats were quickly swamped and the occupants swept away in the turbulent waters. Many of the men clung to the upturned boats with a desperation that only the knowledge that their death was near could give.

Up to noon the weather had been peculiarly calm, but there was no indication of a storm. At about two o'clock, when a stiff breeze began blowing, and before the occupants of the small boats could seek ports of safety the boats were tossed about like cork-balls, and the men were unable to do so. The boats were quickly swamped and the occupants swept away in the turbulent waters. Many of the men clung to the upturned boats with a desperation that only the knowledge that their death was near could give.

Up to noon the weather had been peculiarly calm, but there was no indication of a storm. At about two o'clock, when a stiff breeze began blowing, and before the occupants of the small boats could seek ports of safety the boats were tossed about like cork-balls, and the men were unable to do so. The boats were quickly swamped and the occupants swept away in the turbulent waters. Many of the men clung to the upturned boats with a desperation that only the knowledge that their death was near could give.

Up to noon the weather had been peculiarly calm, but there was no indication of a storm. At about two o'clock, when a stiff breeze began blowing, and before the occupants of the small boats could seek ports of safety the boats were tossed about like cork-balls, and the men were unable to do so. The boats were quickly swamped and the occupants swept away in the turbulent waters. Many of the men clung to the upturned boats with a desperation that only the knowledge that their death was near could give.

Up to noon the weather had been peculiarly calm, but there was no indication of a storm. At about two o'clock, when a stiff breeze began blowing, and before the occupants of the small boats could seek ports of safety the boats were tossed about like cork-balls, and the men were unable to do so. The boats were quickly swamped and the occupants swept away in the turbulent waters. Many of the men clung to the upturned boats with a desperation that only the knowledge that their death was near could give.

Up to noon the weather had been peculiarly calm, but there was no indication of a storm. At about two o'clock, when a stiff breeze began blowing, and before the occupants of the small boats could seek ports of safety the boats were tossed about like cork-balls, and the men were unable to do so. The boats were quickly swamped and the occupants swept away in the turbulent waters. Many of the men clung to the upturned boats with a desperation that only the knowledge that their death was near could give.

Up to noon the weather had been peculiarly calm, but there was no indication of a storm. At about two o'clock, when a stiff breeze began blowing, and before the occupants of the small boats could seek ports of safety the boats were tossed about like cork-balls, and the men were unable to do so. The boats were quickly swamped and the occupants swept away in the turbulent waters. Many of the men clung to the upturned boats with a desperation that only the knowledge that their death was near could give.

Up to noon the weather had been peculiarly calm, but there was no indication of a storm. At about two o'clock, when a stiff breeze began blowing, and before the occupants of the small boats could seek ports of safety the boats were tossed about like cork-balls, and the men were unable to do so. The boats were quickly swamped and the occupants swept away in the turbulent waters. Many of the men clung to the upturned boats with a desperation that only the knowledge that their death was near could give.

DYNAMITE IN LONDON.

A Terrible Explosion at London Bridge Between the City and the City of London.

A Terrible Explosion at London Bridge Between the City and the City of London. The Victims Were Killed and Many Others Seriously Injured. The Cause of the Explosion Was a Bomb of Dynamite.

A Terrible Explosion at London Bridge Between the City and the City of London. The Victims Were Killed and Many Others Seriously Injured. The Cause of the Explosion Was a Bomb of Dynamite.

A Terrible Explosion at London Bridge Between the City and the City of London. The Victims Were Killed and Many Others Seriously Injured. The Cause of the Explosion Was a Bomb of Dynamite.

A Terrible Explosion at London Bridge Between the City and the City of London. The Victims Were Killed and Many Others Seriously Injured. The Cause of the Explosion Was a Bomb of Dynamite.

A Terrible Explosion at London Bridge Between the City and the City of London. The Victims Were Killed and Many Others Seriously Injured. The Cause of the Explosion Was a Bomb of Dynamite.

A Terrible Explosion at London Bridge Between the City and the City of London. The Victims Were Killed and Many Others Seriously Injured. The Cause of the Explosion Was a Bomb of Dynamite.

A Terrible Explosion at London Bridge Between the City and the City of London. The Victims Were Killed and Many Others Seriously Injured. The Cause of the Explosion Was a Bomb of Dynamite.

A Terrible Explosion at London Bridge Between the City and the City of London. The Victims Were Killed and Many Others Seriously Injured. The Cause of the Explosion Was a Bomb of Dynamite.

A Terrible Explosion at London Bridge Between the City and the City of London. The Victims Were Killed and Many Others Seriously Injured. The Cause of the Explosion Was a Bomb of Dynamite.

A Terrible Explosion at London Bridge Between the City and the City of London. The Victims Were Killed and Many Others Seriously Injured. The Cause of the Explosion Was a Bomb of Dynamite.

A Terrible Explosion at London Bridge Between the City and the City of London. The Victims Were Killed and Many Others Seriously Injured. The Cause of the Explosion Was a Bomb of Dynamite.

A Terrible Explosion at London Bridge Between the City and the City of London. The Victims Were Killed and Many Others Seriously Injured. The Cause of the Explosion Was a Bomb of Dynamite.

A Terrible Explosion at London Bridge Between the City and the City of London. The Victims Were Killed and Many Others Seriously Injured. The Cause of the Explosion Was a Bomb of Dynamite.

A Terrible Explosion at London Bridge Between the City and the City of London. The Victims Were Killed and Many Others Seriously Injured. The Cause of the Explosion Was a Bomb of Dynamite.

A Terrible Explosion at London Bridge Between the City and the City of London. The Victims Were Killed and Many Others Seriously Injured. The Cause of the Explosion Was a Bomb of Dynamite.

A Terrible Explosion at London Bridge Between the City and the City of London. The Victims Were Killed and Many Others Seriously Injured. The Cause of the Explosion Was a Bomb of Dynamite.

A Terrible Explosion at London Bridge Between the City and the City of London. The Victims Were Killed and Many Others Seriously Injured. The Cause of the Explosion Was a Bomb of Dynamite.

A Terrible Explosion at London Bridge Between the City and the City of London. The Victims Were Killed and Many Others Seriously Injured. The Cause of the Explosion Was a Bomb of Dynamite.

A Terrible Explosion at London Bridge Between the City and the City of London. The Victims Were Killed and Many Others Seriously Injured. The Cause of the Explosion Was a Bomb of Dynamite.

A Terrible Explosion at London Bridge Between the City and the City of London. The Victims Were Killed and Many Others Seriously Injured. The Cause of the Explosion Was a Bomb of Dynamite.

A Terrible Explosion at London Bridge Between the City and the City of London. The Victims Were Killed and Many Others Seriously Injured. The Cause of the Explosion Was a Bomb of Dynamite.

PITH AND POINT.

A Man who brings suit against a young woman and wins her for his wife sometimes gets heavy damages.

A Man who brings suit against a young woman and wins her for his wife sometimes gets heavy damages. "Do not marry a widow," said the old lady, "a ready-made family is like a plate of cold potatoes." "Oh, I'll soon warm them," replied the dunsel.

A Little town in New York has a skating-rink where they call it that because the people go there to see the "falls."

The man for clothing with coatmen is rapidly subsiding, and the old folks are again keeping a watchful eye on the oldest son and the family cook.

A Colorado man, in boasting of this State, said: "Why, even our worst hard head, old Colorado

WITTING TO ADVERTISING
you saw the 220015 member or.

